SHAVUOT - Receiving Torah (literally!) and studying about a Notorious Lawgiver (besides Moses)

On the holiday of Shavuot, we received the Torah - the Law. Our theme for Shavuot is the eight Jewish Supreme Court justices, offering a profile of seven Justices each week between Passover and Shavuot, culminating with a study of Ruth Bader Ginsburg (RBG) on May 19 & 20. Temple members can purchase "RBG" books for $5 each, if you commit to attend a Shavuot program. Available in temple office. Call 336-722-6640 to reserve your copy of adult version, young reader's version (age 9-12) or children's version.

Saturday, May 19, 7:00 - 10:00 PM - an evening of dedication, study & dairy oneg

BAR MITZVAH BIO

Ryan Jacob Thiel - May 26, 2018

Ryan is the son of Shayna and Jason Thiel and older brother of David Thiel. He first became part of the Temple Emanuel community twelve years ago in the Kittens Preschool class and has been active ever since.

Ryan is currently a seventh grader at Jefferson Middle School, where he is an officer on the Student Council and member of the golf team. When not at school, Ryan plays a variety of sports, including basketball, baseball, football and golf. He enjoys being outside and spending time with family and friends.

Ryan and his family wish to thank Rabbi Mark Cohn, Bobby Stern, Courtney Anthony, and all the Religious School teachers for preparing him for his Bar Mitzvah day.

To celebrate the special occasion, Ryan’s family invites the congregation to attend evening services on Friday, May 25 at 7:30 PM and morning services on Saturday, May 26 at 10:00 AM, and celebrate at a Kiddush Luncheon following Saturday morning services.

PRESIDENT FELICE BRENNER

My Final President’s Letter…To The Non-Members

It seems that the May/June bulletin is the place for an outgoing temple president to reflect, recap, and ruminate two years of accomplishments. It would be the place for thank yous and lessons learned.

And I do want to get to that when I have more time and space. We owe masses of appreciation to the congregants who have done wonderful things for our community over the last two years.

But instead, I’m going to use this platform to speak to the “nons.” These are Jewish people in our community—Jewish people who feel the connection, but don’t join Temple Emanuel Winston-Salem.

They are known as the “Non-Members.”

Who are they? We know that many are doctors, but they’re in all kinds professions. They live all over Winston-Salem and, in my experience, they’re very nice people. They seem pleasantly surprised when they find out that I’m willing to be more than a “cultural Jew” and volunteer for our local temple.

In general, I’ve found that they feel a close traditional connection to the Jewish people and are certainly interested in the preservation of our traditions. But the “nons” often say that they don’t attend services regularly so they don’t see the value of membership. Sometimes they apologize—and I wonder why they feel the need to express regret when it’s so easy to join.

I feel that all our members represent the Jewish community and should emphasize the importance of the existence, stability, and beautiful diversity of our temple. So, I’m going to take this opportunity and to repeat what I’ve said numerous times.

Jews of Winston-Salem: If you feel a connection to Judaism, Temple Emanuel is the place to be. We welcome members from all Jewish backgrounds. We like you and are like you. We want to connect with you. We’re your Jewish home!

We’re trying to send the message that the value of Temple membership goes beyond a seat in our pews—it’s the connections we make with each other and our Jewish values.

I hope our congregants will help us communicate this to all Jews in our community as our leadership focuses on ideas that makes Temple Emanuel a better place to study, worship, and gather. A few of our recent “member engagement” initiatives include:

● A constitutional amendment transferring membership leadership from a committee chair position to a vice president and executive committee position
● A reboot of our website and social media presence to better communicate with and appeal to younger members
● Free membership to Jewish Temple Emanuel preschool families and lower membership fees for single members
● A Chavurah social group initiative featuring groups with like interests and leisure activities
● Greater emphasis on family-friendly programming and adult education/“lifelong” learning

As my two years as president winds down, I can reflect on what we’ve accomplished. And I’m feeling pretty good about it as national synagogue membership numbers decline while ours have remained fairly stable. We’re a strong, vibrant, and engaging congregation.

So non-members—this final president’s letter is a message for you. Please join us. We’d love to call you Temple Emanuel Winston-Salem member.

Please use this form as a template to complete your submission. Email your submissions to Cynthia Silber, Temple Administrator by Wednesday, May 16.
RABBI MARK D. COHN

Yishar Koach - May you go on in strength, Courtney

In the coming weeks, as our academic year comes to a close with the end of Religious School and the winding down of this year’s lifelong learning offerings, we will give our good-byes and well-wishes to our Director of Education, Courtney Anthony. Courtney has worked diligently in so many ways for our congregation and I am so grateful for having had the last four years to partner with her in a whole myriad of tasks.

We have travelled to teach and to learn, to explore and to have fun. From Atlanta to Jerusalem, New York City to Washington, DC, Courtney has arranged memorable trips and numerous opportunities for our students and families to discover what is possible when we leave shul and go to “do” Jewish on the road. And we have shared countless hours teaching in our sanctuary and in our library – working to create a meaningful experience for our children as they develop their sense of Judaism and Yiddishkeit.

Anyone who knows me knows I love to laugh and to learn. And Courtney and I have laughed a lot – at funny situations like whimsical shopping when we take our temple kids to PetCo because ... where else can you kill 30 minutes when your reservation isn’t ready at Carmine’s on the Upper West Side or wandering through the Atlanta Aquarium and being so crowded that we literally couldn’t see the exhibits through the people. And I have learned a lot – from Shakespeare to American Jewish writers, Courtney has been my teacher as we have sat in the library with our teens exploring literature about or by Jews. I have learned how to be more attentive to the needs of our children and I have learned how to nurture a discussion and follow the thread of where the kids are going.

Of all the congregations in this fine land of ours ... there is none like the Isaac Mayer Wise Temple of Cincinnati, as that is the congregation named for the rabbi who was, in many ways, the founder of organized Reform Judaism in North America. Courtney places remarkable value on and appreciation of Judaism and Jewish history, Jewish peoplehood and Israel and I am quite sure she will find a welcome space upon arrival in the synagogue where I was ordained. I offer, as I’m sure you will join me, a prayer of great blessing as she moves on from our community to a place she has called home before and a congregation to which I know she will bring many gifts. Blessed were you in your coming into our community, Courtney, and may you find great blessing on your path and the many paths on which you will travel from here!

B’Shalom,
Rabbi Mark

Yishar Koach - May you go on in strength, Felice

The relationship between staff, clergy, and lay leadership in any synagogue is critical for the success of the overall operation. Some call that model a three-legged stool. I am so grateful for our three-legged stool at Temple Emanuel and, consistently, so honored to be the clergy voice and presence here. Working with our staff and our lay leadership has always been among my greatest honors.

In June, Felice Brenner will conclude her responsibilities as Temple President and she has worked tirelessly to make sure our community – everyone’s “second Jewish home” – is one that is healthy, sound, and safe. I am grateful for her many, many hours of helping us find our way toward a more meaningful Jewish expression both on and off the property of 201 Oakwood Drive. As each of us, as Jews and non-Jews who are part of our community, explore services, Torah study, religious school, lifelong learning programs, social events, fundraisers, and more, Felice has been a supporter of allowing everyone to find their own way and path into temple life.

From Temple President to Immediate Past President, Felice will still carry Torah on the High Holy Days, reminding us all that our work with the temple and our own Jewish life is never done. Nor should it be. Felice, may you go from strength to strength in your work here and elsewhere and it is with deep appreciation for your devotion that I, as a partner in upholding our three-legged stool, thank you.

B’Shalom,
Rabbi Mark

Join us on Thursday, May 17 for the last gathering before summer break.
COURTNEY ANTHONY, DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION

In Gratitude

The Religious School just concluded a study of the Book of Genesis. One of the big questions we explored during our study is posed to God by Cain early in the Genesis narrative: “Am I my brother’s keeper?” The rest of Genesis answers this question with a resounding YES, culminating in the story of Joseph’s reconciliation with his long-estranged brothers. The Torah makes clear that it is our responsibility to care for our brothers and sisters. This key teaching is reinforced later when we are instructed to “love your neighbor as yourself” (Leviticus 19:18), and in again in the Talmud when we are told that, “All of Israel are responsible for one another” (Shavuot 39a).

During my years at Temple Emanuel, I have had the privilege of living and working in a community where this teaching is practiced on a daily basis. From the time of my very first visit to Winston-Salem (when I came to interview for the Director of Education position), I was warmly welcomed and embraced by the temple community. Since then, I have celebrated countless holidays and simchas with all of you. I have had the honor of getting to know your children at Religious School, and helping them to craft their b’nei mitzvah speeches. I have staffed a congregational trip to Israel and experienced the wonders of that country – from Shabbat morning on the beach in Tel Aviv, to picking potatoes in the fields at Leket, to touring the Old City in one-hundred degree heat – with you. You have participated in Lifelong Learning, and even shared in my love of Shakespeare as we studied The Merchant of Venice together. And just recently, when I lost my beloved grandfather, I felt surrounded by your love and support at the shivah minyan. For four years, this community has kept me, and Temple Emanuel has been not merely my place of work, but also my Jewish home.

Though I am excited to begin my new position at Wise Temple in Cincinnati, I am sad to say good-bye to my Temple Emanuel family. I will miss you, but I know that I am leaving you in good hands with the incoming Director of Education, Debi Rowe. I trust that you will welcome her as warmly as you welcomed me, and make her time at Temple Emanuel as meaningful and memorable as mine has been.

It seems only fitting that I conclude with a quotation from The Merchant of Venice, describing the impact of every deed of kindness: “How far that little candle throws his beams! So shines a good deed in a naughty world.”

May your warmth and light always shine on.

With love,
Courtney

SOCIAL ACTION AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

The mission for the Social Action Committee (SAC) has always been one of Tikkun Olam - repairing the world. Our members seek to raise awareness, to educate and to mobilize the congregation concerning issues of social justice. Consider becoming involved in our work or by contributing ideas and volunteering for initiatives.

Upcoming SAC meetings: Sundays, 9:00 AM in the Library, May 13 and June 17

Please share your thoughts or questions by email with me.

FOCUS ON REFUGEES BY TEMPLE EMANUEL

Refugees have been a focus this winter and spring at Temple Emanuel... From the interfaith “Strangers No More” service and dinner at Social Action Shabbat #1 on MLK weekend, to hearing about refugee resettlement efforts from Dean Clifford from Knollwood Baptist Church on Social Action Shabbat #2, to learning and exploring our people’s own refugee experience during Passover.

By the end of May, our second and third refugee families will have completed applications for Green Cards through World Relief and will be awaiting interviews with United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) in Charlotte. The Shaker family, who arrived in the summer of 2016, has completed the process and are awaiting Green Cards. The Masamba family and El Ibrahim family, who both arrived, in the spring of 2017 will initiate the process this month. Your Tzedakah money covered the cost of the Shaker family’s fees and the monies you donated to Refugee Resettlement needs, along with some help from Knollwood Baptist and one of the families, will make the other applications possible. As we learned from the very informative talk by Dean Clifford, this is a major step in their process of becoming citizens and truly finding new homes after years of disruption. Thank you for helping make their dreams a reality.

2018 TZEDAKAH CAMPAIGN

Temple Emanuel continues to stand with other faith communities and organizations in our community to help those in need of food, shelter, refuge, medication and compassionate care during illness and grief. We are making a difference right here in our community through our donations of your yearly Tzedakah High Holy Days contributions. Remember our goal for 2018 is $2000 - only $7.14 per family that can make life better for those in need in Forsyth County.

This month we highlight Habitat for Humanity. Read how this organization works to help our neighbors with good affordable housing.

SERVING OUR COMMUNITY, IN MANY WAYS

A BIG THANK YOU to Amy and Bobby Lamy, Robert and Rebecca Schwartz, Lyle Jaffe, Barbara Freiberg, Jenny Knudson, Melissa Glock and Rona Klein who helped prepare and serve a meal to over 150 residents of the Ardmore community at the twice monthly Ardmore Methodist Church Food Pantry Meal. This is the 3rd year Temple Emanuel has participated in this interfaith project with the church to help alleviate hunger in the very community in which our Temple resides.

The Social Action Committee would like to recognize and thank Amy and Bobby Lamy for their more than 20 years of faithful service volunteering at the Samaritan Ministries once a month, since the first Mitzvah Day in October, 1996. Their service is an inspiration to all of us to serve our community.

SISTERHOOD

A Message from Sisterhood President Lori Baydush

Wrapping up March and April Sisterhood events, we sponsored a lovely Sisterhood Shabbat with several members participating in the Service. Special thanks to Regina Lobree for coordinating the service and Dara Silver for chanting the Torah portion. I was personally very inspired to be a part of this special event.

Sisterhood also met as a large group on Sunday morning March 18 for a business and budget review meeting. In reviewing our budget, we are able to continue to offer our Youth Education Scholarships on a need basis for programs including Jewish Summer Camps, Religious School youth trips with the Temple Emanuel Religious School and beyond. All applicants will be considered based on education programs which promote a connection to Judaism. Click for fillable application. Please email Wendy Brenner for additional details.

We are working on our new slate of officers to be announced during our closing meeting in May. We decided to have a Wine and Cheese Social at Medaloni Winery in Lewisville on Sunday, May 6 from 3:00 - 5:00 PM. As always, we encourage everyone to become part of Sisterhood and volunteer to help our new president continue our traditions. Please email Lori Baydush for further details.

Sisterhood Book Club meets monthly on the 2nd Wednesday of the month at 7:30 PM, except where noted. * Upcoming dates

- Wednesday, May 9 - Book Club dinner and planning meeting for next season, hosted by Margot Lobree
- Wednesday, June 13 - Book, hostess and leader: to be announced

WINSTON-SALEM HADASSAH

Thanks to Winston-Salem Hadassah for sponsoring 2 wonderful events this Spring.

• An afternoon of playing Mah Jongg, at Fro-Mahj, with wine, cheese and fun.
• Celebrating Israel’s Independence Day and 70th birthday, with Israeli dancing taught by Marsha Strauss and delicious treats, of course.
THE MAVENS (Senior Programming)

The Mavens completed the initial year of the L'Dor V'Dor program with a picnic on Friday, April 20, attended by many Jewish Students at Wake Forest. We consider this program a success because through our efforts and planning, Jewish students attend Temple Emanuel services and celebrate various holidays with us. We are thankful to the numerous Mavens who attend and support our programs. Our gratitude to Regina Lobree and Gail Bretan for their leadership with the L'Dor V'Dor program. We look forward to planning next year’s programs. A big thanks to the BJH Foundation’s grant for financial support.

Attendance at our "Lunch and Learn" events, usually held the 2nd Thursday of the month at 12 noon, (note: date change for June gathering) often preceded by Chair Yoga at 11:00 AM, has increased substantially. Many interesting programs are planned thanks to our Program Coordinator, Susan Surman.

Upcoming Programs:
- Thursday, May 10 - Creativity For Seniors. Nancy Hall, founder and director of the annual Second Spring Festival of the Arts which promotes creativity among older adults and encourages them to participate in the arts. Former president of Forsyth County AARP. NOTE: No Chair Yoga in May.
- Thursday, June 21 - Award winning Linda Weaver will talk about her experience as a portrait painter and photographer.
- Sunday, July 29 - Paid-up membership trip. Join us for a bus trip to the Blumenthal Performing Arts Center in Charlotte to see the award winning Broadway show, "The Book Of Mormon," followed by dinner at a Lake Norman restaurant. All this for the cost of $50, plus the payment of your 2018-19 dues - $18. Contact Margot Lobree by email or call 415-385-1559 for availability of tickets.

If you are not a Maven, now is the time to join the senior group of Temple Emanuel. For more information contact Herb Spindel at mavens@templeemanuelws.com or call 336-293-6604.
